Episode 1.2

It's Lovely to Meet You!

Name: _____

Date: _____

"You can do this in your hometown. I did it my whole life and I absolutely love it, and now I'm here in LA."
- Chelsea

NOTES

What's Your Story?

Just like the characters we portray, each one of us has a different backstory. It's important to have a good handle on how to talk about your specific journey into acting, because the events you've experienced in your life are what make you unique! Whether it's in a room with producers or in line at the coffee shop, being able to pitch yourself clearly and concisely is almost as important as auditioning.

YOU'RE IN AN ELEVATOR FOR THE NEXT THIRTY SECONDS WHEN SOMEONE SAYS TO YOU, "WHAT'S YOUR ACTOR STORY?" WHAT DO YOU SAY?_____

[DEFINITION] Pilot Season: The busiest casting season of the year (usually January through April) when most networks produce pilots (the first episode of a brand new show) and cast the Lead and Series Regular roles for those shows.

Making the Trip

Have you decided to what city/state you'd like to go in order to pursue an acting career? If so, have you visited? We strongly recommend spending time in your potential future destination to make sure it's a good fit before moving.

WRITE DOWN TWO OR THREE PLACES YOU'D LIKE TO VISIT IN PREPARATION FOR A POTENTIAL MOVE, AND WHEN THOSE VISITS COULD TAKE PLACE _____